Special Education

The School of Education offers programs leading to a Graduate Certificate in Special Education, Master’s Degree in Education in Special Education, and a Doctor of Philosophy in Education with a Concentration in Special Education.

Graduate Certificate in Special Education

The faculty, staff and students in the special education program are committed to making a positive difference in the lives of their students with disabilities and their families by increasing their success in school, work, community, and living environments. The graduate certificate plan of study in special education is designed to enhance the applicant's experience and expertise through academic study, research, and clinical opportunities. Program completers with a current Professional Education License (PEL) in Illinois will be eligible for the Illinois State Board of Education endorsement for the Learning Behavior Specialist I (LBS I) in:

- K–Grade 3 (for educators who already hold an early childhood self-contained general education endorsement)
- Grade 1–6 (for educators who already hold an elementary education endorsement)
- Grade 6–12 (for educators who already hold a secondary education endorsement)

The LBS I endorsement also requires a passing score on the LBS I (155) test.

Applicants for the Graduate Certificate in Special Education must meet the criteria for admission to the Graduate School. In addition, candidates must submit a department application form, a letter of application, all undergraduate and graduate transcripts, and two letters of reference to the department. The Special Education Graduate committee will evaluate the application materials and make appropriate recommendations for acceptance or rejection of admission to the program. It is the responsibility of the committee to exercise professional judgement related to the criteria that applicants must meet in order to be considered for admission to the program. Students will be informed in writing of the Special Education Graduate Committee's decision.

Graduate Certificate Program Admission Criteria

Admission to the Graduate Certificate Program in Special Education will be based upon the following criteria:

1. A baccalaureate degree in elementary education, secondary education or a related field such as social work or psychology.
2. Current Professional Education License (PEL) with endorsement in a teaching area in the state of Illinois.
3. Undergraduate grade point of 2.75 or higher on a 4.0 scale.
4. A minimum of two letters of recommendation, which on the whole, clearly attest to the professional dispositions of a special education professional as articulated in the CEC Code of Ethics and Standards for Professional Practice, and predict academic success at the graduate level.
5. A letter of application (approximately 400 words) in which the applicant summarizes his/her professional goals, career objectives, research interests, motivation for graduate work and other pertinent information.
6. Departmental application form.
All application requirements must be completed before consideration of an applicant for admission. The Graduate Committee evaluates the credentials of each applicant. When an application file is complete, it will be referred to the Graduate Committee to review at their next scheduled meeting. Students may be required to complete an interview with the Special Education faculty.
